About Us

SUM Studios is the revival of a beautiful Grade II listed Victorian school building into a dynamic mix of arts, business and community spaces. The team behind the development, Heeley Trust, had a vision – to transform this local landmark and a gem of Victorian architecture into the heart of a community in Heeley. Following years of negotiations, work started in 2009, finished in 2013, to bring this place back from the brink of dereliction and to make it the hive of activity it is today
